It Takes Two to Talk® Program

Wellbeing for life

The “It Takes Two to Talk” Programme is designed specifically for parents of young children (up to five years of age) who have been identified as having a language delay.

In a small, personalised group setting, parents learn practical strategies to help their children learn language naturally during their normal day.

The “It Takes Two to Talk” Programme teaches you, step-by-step, how to become your child’s most important language teacher. The programme shows you how to:

- Recognise your child’s stage and style of communication so that you know which steps to take next
- Identify what motivates your child to interact with you so you’ll know how to get conversations started
- Adjust everyday routines to help your child take turns and keep interactions going
- Follow your child’s lead to build his confidence and encourage him to communicate
- Add language to interactions with your child to help him understand language and then use it when he is ready
- Tweak the way you play and read books with your child to help him learn language
- Change the way you speak to your child so that he’ll understand and learn new words.

What is involved in the course?

The course is led by a Hanen-certified Speech and Language Therapist and includes:

- Six to eight training sessions in a small, personalised group. These sessions are usually evening classes.
- A pre-programme consultation for you and your child with your Speech and Language Therapist
- Three individual appointments for you and your child in which you are videotaped while practicing with your child. Then you and your therapist watch the videotaped interaction to “see” what’s helping and what you can modify to help even more.

“I loved the programme and can use this course for all of my children’s language development”

Parental feedback from previous courses

Milton Keynes SLT has been running Hanen courses for over 10 years and we know this training will support you as parents to be the most effective communicators with your child. In turn, this will develop your child's communication and interaction skills. But it is not just us that believes in the power of the course; here are some parent testimonies:

"The course helps you to understand your child's needs better, it's very simple once you have been and done the course."

"Great fun; the therapist is lovely and very helpful."

"The therapist was very helpful and willing to provide tailored suggestions for my child."

"It has been really enjoyable and it is great that it is in the evening so that my husband can come."

"This has opened my child's communication up."
