

Willen Roundabout Works Update

Willen roundabout is on the junction of the V10 and H4. There are 4 subways beneath the roadway and 2 redways meet at this point. The inner circle was planted with Leylandii in the 1970's and these have all grown too large and dangerous so have now been removed because tree roots have been creating settlement in the roadway.

What other works are still needed here?

1. One area to the North East of the roundabout on the H4 where a depression exists still needs to be excavated and work will begin as soon as possible after the excavation to the South of the roundabout is completed
2. Remaining timber needs removing from site
3. Street lighting will be renewed to the inner circle redway area
4. Landscaping / replanting of the inner circle embankments
5. Full resurfacing of the roundabout, white lining and new signage

What stage are the works at?

All of the trees have been removed from the inner circle leaving a few shrubs which will be tidied up by our landscape team when they replant each embankment. The roadway excavations to the South are now being reinstated.

How will the works affect road users & pedestrians?

The Redways are now clear although one subway may require narrowing to allow the remaining timber to be removed safely. But this will only take an hour or two during the day.

The H4 travelling East is one lane at the roundabout and travelling West is left turn only. The V10 has been right turn only. The detours are short but delays inevitable during rush hours but atleast the roads have remained open and daytime traffic has flowed well.

Resurfacing of the roundabout is planned to start on the 25th March for 3 days at which time there will be a full road closure of both V10 and H4 expected to last 3 days.
