What changes do we want to make?	How will we do this?	Who will do this?
Girl Smith is worried about her behaviour and doesn't want to commit any further offences	Girl Smith to work with her YOT worker	Girl 1 and P Jones
Mum is worried that the issues with her neighbours will mean they have to leave the house, the family wish to stay.	Mum to work with housing team to resolve is with neighbours. Mum is also willing to have some support to manage her anger.	Housing Team
Dad is eager to move on and start work since leaving prison. He is also concerned about his anger issues, he feel that he struggles to communicate with his children and this to violent outbursts.	Dad to continue working with probation and employment team to secure long term work. He is interested in looking at ways to control his anger and feels he would benefit from parenting classes.	Probation. Strengthening Families Employment Advisor
Parents are worried about Boy 1 low school attendance, Mum has struggled to get the boys to bed and often gives up trying to get them up in the morning	Parents and boys to create a plan for bedtime and morning routines to get the boy to school. Mum is interested in parenting courses.	Parents and school

How will we know this is working?

- Relationship between the neighbours will improve and, reducing the risk of having to move.
- With the help of parenting course and anger management, parents will have a better control of the children's daily routines, which will improve their school attendance and behaviour.
- Dad to look for work, finding employment will help the family financially; this will set an example to the children and encourage them to attend school
