Hello Dan,

Please accept my apologies for not responding to your previous request, I was hoping that the weird situation we find ourselves in might have become more clear by now, though sadly not. I'm afraid I'm still incarcerated at home until at least the end of June and I'm not entirely sure when we'll be released back into the wild. My broadband here is dire and keeps freezing or disconnecting me so I'm unable to take part in any on-line meetings. I should have also mentioned this before so apologies for not doing that but I've been recently reminded that all communication requests should be made via the planning officer so he's aware of any discussions being had.

My new manager Phillip Snell and I have been discussing whether I'm the most suitable person to be working on this case due to my likely retirement this year and which team member would be the most appropriate to take it forward. I've copied Phill in on this email so you have his contact details. I'm not sure if that decision has been made between Phill and Planning yet but I suspect it's unlikely to be me because I think there's too big a risk that I may not still be around for the final stages of the appeal even if it is completed on the agreed dates.

Sorry, that wasn't particularly helpful, was it?

Regards,

Diane Evans
Ecologist

Hello Diane

South Caldecotte
Appeal Ref: APP/Y0435/W/20/3251121

Further to our email correspondence below, would you have availability in the latter half of this month to discuss the Council's concerns regarding ecology at the above site. If so, please do let me know what dates are best for you and I'll check them with my colleague who is also working on the project.

Kind regards,

Dan Walker

Hello Dan,

I haven't been ignoring you, I've been on leave since 11th March so please accept my apologies for the delay in responding. It's unlikely that I'll return to the office for at least 12 weeks as I'm the primary carer for a member of my household who is in the highly vulnerable group for Covid-19 and I can't risk introducing the virus to him.

I can't enter into any discussion without the agreement of the Planning section and I've been advised by them that any discussion relating to the SoCG would be premature at present as they're yet to receive a PINS notification. They've suggested that we wait until that arrives before we arrange a meeting.

Kind regards,

Diane Evans

Dear Diane

I have tried to call a number of times over the previous few weeks, so far without success.

I am hoping we can discuss the reason for refusal on ecology for outline planning application (19/01818/OUT); so that we may confirm the matters agreed and not agreed, to inform the SoCG. Could you give me a call on my mobile number below, so that we can put a date in the diary.

Kind regards,

Dear Diane

I hope you are well.

I've left a voice message. I write in regard to South Caldecotte, the outline application (19/01818/Out) for which was refused in February 2020. My client is looking to appeal; and accordingly, to begin preparation of the Statement of Common Ground, I thought it would be worth meeting to confirm the various points on ecology which are agreed and not agreed. If you are open to this, please do give me a call so we can pencil in a suitable date/time.

Kind regards
