Injury to wildlife

Microplastics

Crisp packets, plastic bottles, plastic bag and other rubbish which is dropped on the floor and blown by the wind into local streams and lakes

Animals and birds get tangled up, injured or eat plastic which cause them harm

A swirling mass of mainly plastic in the Pacific ocean, going round in never ending circles

The origins of plastic, designed to be an alternative to wood, bone, ivory and tortoise shell

When plastic breaks down into smaller and smaller parts

Different ways we can all help to use less plastic, e.g. reusable water bottles, mend broken items, use a sandwich tub instead of clingfilm or tin foil
