About our School:

Holne Chase is an award-winning school, which is part of the Preston Hedge's Trust which is built on the ethos of Fun, Creativity and Achievement. With these as the foundations of the school, we are committed to making Holne Chase a very special place to learn; a school which is full of creative, innovative and engaging learning opportunities that encourage pupils to become inquisitive and confident, life-long learners.

As an inclusive school, we work hard to ensure children thrive socially as well as academically. We promote resilience, positivity, respect, empathy, responsibility and aspiration, and foster a positive, caring, supportive learning environment, with an open-door policy for children and families.

As an ECT at Holne Chase, you will be provided with exceptional professional development, so that you can be supported in this every exciting phase of your teaching career. You will have the opportunity to work with leaders at our school who will support you with your individualised support plan to enable you to be the best teacher you can be. In addition, our Trust prioritises the development of ECTs and therefore there are lots of opportunities for you to collaborate with other ECTs from across our Trust, including observing highly effective practice.

About the Role:

Calling all aspirational and ambitious Early Careers Teachers! We have an amazing opportunity to join us here at Holne Chase Primary School in September! We can offer amazing children who love to learn; supportive parents, and an incredible staff 'family' who enjoy a bit of fun and make sure that they look out for each other. Our school is a very dynamic and happy place to learn and work in!

From September, we are looking for an ECT who is driven to provide the very best opportunities for our children in Key Stage Two. We wish to appoint a teacher who is willing to collaborate with our supportive team to ensure that our ethos of Fun, Creativity & Achievement is brought to life.

If you are passionate about teaching and committed to providing creative learning experiences, we would love to hear from you! To learn more about the role, this exciting venture and the opportunities that it brings, potential candidates are warmly welcome to meet the Principal and tour our school. Please contact the school office on 01908 373640 or email office@holnechase.org
